Tasting nodes

The vineyards before all else. For wines to be an authentic expression of their territory, it is necessary to trust the vineyard and lead it toward self-regulation. This is why our wine-making is minimalist: sometimes we think it's better to not take action. No synthetic chemicals for weeds, defence or fertiliser. No aggressive handling of the soil or the vines. Sowing of grassy plants and legumes in order to revitalise the soil and reduce soil compaction. Use of natural phyto-fortifiers to stimulate plants' self defence.
